

Cloud Computing Lecture

Virtualization is the core foundation of cloud computing.

It enables multitenancy and elastic scaling.

Three service models exist: IaaS, PaaS, and SaaS.

In IaaS, providers offer raw compute and storage.

In PaaS, providers offer a managed platform for applications.

In SaaS, complete applications are delivered to end users.